NEW DHL BRUSSELS HUB GOES LIVE (BRU)

 world's leading international express service provider started operating from its new hub at Brussels airport in July 2017. This will further strengthen the position of Brussels within the European and worldwide DHL network. This 114 million Euro investment is expected to triple the hub's capacity from 12,000 to 39,500 shipments per hour. Thanks to the state-of-the-art ULD and material handling system technologies, DHL will be able to respond to the expected fast growth of the international express shipments. To improve and modernise its ULD handling standards, DHL Brussels together with SACO radically upgraded the existing DHL engineering specifications. Backed by DHL operations, maintenance, technical and safety experts, these specifications will now serve as base for a new global standard.
